I. INTRODUCTION

1. I, Neil J. Zoltowski, am a Partner in the San Francisco, California office of StoneTurn Group, LLP (“StoneTurn”). I have provided financial and economic consulting services – including economic valuation of intellectual property such as patents, trade secrets, trademarks and copyrights – to counsel and client companies for more than 20 years. I have been involved with, and/or managed, hundreds of financial consulting engagements with the majority of these projects concerning economic damages, including numerous engagements on behalf of Fortune 500 companies.

2. In conjunction with my project experience, I have also gained expertise through certifications and trainings. I have earned the Certified Valuation Analyst (“CVA”) and Master Analyst in Financial Forensics (“MAFF”) designations granted by the National Association of Certified Valuators and Analysts (“NACVA”).¹ Additionally, I have earned the Certified Licensing Professional (“CLP”) designation from the Licensing Executives Society USA and Canada, Inc. (“LES”)² and the Certified Patent Valuation Analyst (“CPVA”) designation from The Business Development Academy (“BDA”).³

¹ NACVA, an organization comprised of more than 7,000 CPAs and other valuation and consulting professionals, supports the users of business and intangible asset valuation services and financial forensic services, including damages determinations of all kinds and fraud detection and prevention, by training and certifying financial professionals in these disciplines. NACVA trains and certifies CVAs to perform business valuations as a service to both the consulting community and the users of their services. Through training and rigorous testing, CVAs demonstrate they are qualified to provide capable and professionally executed valuation services. NACVA's valuation designations, including the CVA designation, are the only valuation credentials accredited by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies. NACVA's MAFF credential is designed to provide assurance to the legal and business communities – the primary users of financial forensics services – that the designee possesses a level of experience and knowledge deemed acceptable by NACVA to provide competent and professional financial forensic support services. (www.nacva.com.)

² The CLP program is a professional designation intended to distinguish those who have demonstrated experience, proficiency, knowledge and exposure to licensing and commercialization of intellectual property through involvement in patenting, marketing, valuation, intellectual property law, negotiation, and intellectual asset management. (www.licensingcertification.org.)

Established in 1965, the LES is a professional society comprised of members engaged in the transfer, use, development, manufacture and marketing of intellectual property. LES is a member society of the Licensing Executives Society International, Inc., with a worldwide membership of over 9,000 members in 32 national societies, representing over 90 countries. (www.licensingcertification.org; and www.lesusacanada.org.)

3. A copy of my current curriculum vitae, which summarizes my qualifications and professional experience and includes a listing of my testimony over the preceding four years and publications over the preceding ten years, is attached as Schedule 1.0.

4. StoneTurn charges $495 per hour for time I spend consulting, assessing damages and time that may be spent testifying related to my damages analysis. Neither my, nor my staff's, nor StoneTurn's compensation is affected in any way by either the conclusions I have reached or the outcome of this lawsuit.

II. ASSIGNMENT

5. I have been retained as a damages expert in this matter by Merchant & Gould P.C., counsel for Plaintiff Fair Isaac Corporation ("FICO" or "Plaintiff"), to assess and quantify the economic damages sustained by FICO and the economic benefits received by Defendants Federal Insurance Company ("Federal") and ACE American Insurance Company ("ACE American") (collectively, the "Defendants") assuming Defendants are found liable for the alleged wrongful acts described in, among other things, FICO's Second Amended Complaint, including claims for breach of contract and copyright infringement.⁴

6. The opinions I am rendering in this matter are based on consideration of case-specific facts and circumstances, as well as on my education, training, and experience. I am not offering any opinion regarding liability. This report summarizes my current opinions given the information available at the time of this report submission.

III. INFORMATION CONSIDERED

7. The information that was considered in forming the opinions rendered is listed in Schedule 2.0 to this report and in the footnotes and/or other citations to this report. I have considered information from a variety of sources, including information related to this litigation (including executives with the skill set necessary to value patents." The BDA "is committed to providing unparalleled educational opportunities to the business community." Its courses and certifications "are designed to provide our clients with practical and implementable skills that will yield them competitive advantages in the marketplace." legal filings and documents provided by the parties) and information from independent research (including information from the parties' websites and other publicly available sources).

8. Additionally, I have considered information obtained from interviews of individuals with knowledge relevant to this case, including:

- Bick Whitener – Insurance Industry Expert on behalf of FICO; and
- William P. Waid – Vice President and General Manager of the Decision Management Line of Business at FICO.

9. I plan to consider any additional information that may become available in this proceeding following the submission of this report and will modify or supplement my analysis and opinions accordingly. In connection with my anticipated testimony in this matter, I may create demonstrative exhibits and/or schedules that refer, or relate, to the subjects discussed in this report, or in any deposition testimony that I may be requested to provide. I have not yet created any such demonstratives as of the date of this report submission.

i. FICO

10. With its principal place of business in San Jose, California, FICO is a “world leader in the design and development of predictive analytics and decision management software.”⁵ FICO provides products and services focused on “automat[ing], improv[ing], and connect[ing] decisions to enhance business performance” for businesses throughout the world in various industries including financial services, healthcare, insurance, and pharmaceuticals.⁶

a) Blaze Advisor Software

11. One of FICO's decision management software tools is the FICO® Blaze Advisor product (“Blaze Advisor”).⁷ Blaze Advisor is compatible with third-party applications, has been deployed in large enterprise applications, and I understand can be programmed to manage the “complexity needed in multi-step processes.”⁸ Blaze Advisor is a “business rules management solution” focused on “automat[ing] operational business decisions,” which results in more “agility, consistency and precision” in companies’ customer interactions.⁹ I understand the process of “automating decisions” can be described as an automated way of “consistently applying the same business practices under the same cond[itions].”¹⁰ Blaze Advisor users are able to “change [business] rule logic at any time” and to automatically deploy rule changes in all running systems” without interruption.¹¹

12. I understand some of the key benefits of deploying Blaze Advisor in the insurance industry include the following:¹²

- Provides flexible decisions and processes, which enable faster responses to changes in customer behavior, economic drivers, competition, [and] regulations;
- Allows for consistent and real-time decision making across the underwriting decision lifecycle, and;
- Enables companies to scale their businesses without the cost of hiring additional underwriting staff.

b) Copyrights for Blaze Advisor

13. I understand that FICO owns the following federal copyright registrations for the successive versions of Blaze Advisor.¹³

ii. Chubb Corporation – Pre-Acquisition

14. With principal executive offices in Warren, New Jersey, Chubb Corporation (“Chubb Corp”) was an international “holding company for several, separately organized, property and casualty insurance companies,” generally referred to as the Chubb Group of Insurance Companies (“Chubb P&C Group”).¹⁴ The Chubb P&C Group provided property and casualty (“P&C”) insurance to individuals and businesses, and as of 2013, was the largest P&C group, collectively, in the U.S. based on net premiums written.¹⁵

15. The Chubb P&C Group was organized into three business units, comprising of (i) Chubb Personal Insurance (36% of net premiums written) (ii) Chubb Commercial Insurance (43%), and (iii) Chubb Specialty Insurance (21%).¹⁶ (See Schedule 18.1). Chubb Personal Insurance offered insurance products for homes and valuables, especially for high net worth individuals, yachts and fine automobiles as well as personal liability insurance.¹⁷ Chubb Commercial Insurance offered a variety of products but specialized in certain industry segments and niches and had a customer base largely of mid-sized businesses.¹⁸ Chubb Specialty Insurance primarily consisted of “directors and officers liability insurance, errors and omissions liability insurance, employment practices liability insurance, fiduciary liability insurance and commercial and financial fidelity insurance.”¹⁹

16. The Chubb P&C Group offers its products primarily through independent insurance agencies and “accepts business on a regular basis from insurance brokers.”²⁰ These agents and brokers typically also offered insurance products from Chubb Corp competitors.²¹

a) Federal

17. Before ACE Limited acquired Chubb Corp, Federal was “the largest insurance subsidiary in the Chubb P&C Group and was the parent of most of [Chubb Corp’s] other insurance subsidiaries.”²² Schedules 14.1 and 14.2 are summaries of the Federal wholly-owned subsidiaries as they were organized by Chubb Corp.

18. Through its division, Chubb & Son, Federal had, and still has, the authority to underwrite, effect and issue all the insurance policies that are in the names of Federal’s wholly-owned subsidiaries in the U.S and certain other countries.²³

b) Chubb & Son

19. Chubb & Son was the “manager of several U.S. subsidiaries in the [Chubb P&C Group] ...[but] also provid[ed] certain services to other insurance companies” in the same group.²⁴ Chubb

Texas Pacific Indemnity has not existed since Chubb Corp was acquired by ACE Limited. As a result, Chubb & Son no longer services it. All of Texas Pacific Indemnity is now under Pacific Indemnity.

²⁴ Taylor Deposition at 17, 37, 44 and Exhibit 18 (The Chubb Corporation 2014 Form 10-K at 3). After Chubb Corp was acquired by ACE Limited, Chubb & Son remained the only division of Federal.

& Son managed the day-to-day operations as well as the operating personnel for these subsidiaries.²⁵ In connection with these services, Chubb & Son had management and service agreements with Federal's subsidiaries that described the services it would provide.²⁶ All of the personnel that provided these services were employed by Federal, so "Federal, through its employees, managed and serviced those subsidiaries."²⁷

20. Chubb & Son had administrative offices in New Jersey as well as local offices across the United States that helped to produce and service Chubb P&C Group businesses.²⁸ This organizational structure was designed to be more efficient by taking advantage of economies of scale and offering more flexibility than alternative structures.²⁹

iii. Chubb Limited – Post-Acquisition

21. On January 14, 2016, ACE Limited completed the acquisition of Chubb Corp for approximately $29.8 billion in cash, stock and equity awards (the "Acquisition").³⁰ Prior to the Acquisition, ACE Limited formed a "wholly-owned subsidiary called ACE INA Holdings, Inc. for the purpose of effectuating the merger transactions with The Chubb Corporation."³¹ ACE Limited also changed its name to Chubb Limited and "plann[ed] to adopt the Chubb name globally, although some subsidiaries may continue to use ACE as part of their names."³² Chubb Corp ceased to exist, and was "merged with a newly-formed subsidiary of Chubb Limited [ACE INA Holdings, Inc.], and the combined company is operating under the Chubb name globally."³³

22. Chubb Limited changed its business lines reporting structure to the following categories: agriculture; global insurance; personal; surety; large, medium and small commercial.³⁴ (See Schedule 18.2).

a) Federal

23. Federal is now a wholly-owned subsidiary of Chubb INA Holdings, Inc. (f/k/a ACE INA Holdings, Inc.).³⁵ Chubb Limited also partially reorganized the subsidiaries reported under Federal in the Chubb Limited public financial statements. Since the Acquisition in 2016, Federal has been Chubb Limited's largest insurance subsidiary in terms of premium revenue.³⁶ Federal has sold and continues to sell insurance products for the personal, commercial and specialty lines of business in the U.S. through a series of independent agencies and brokers.³⁷ Schedules 14.3, 14.4 and 14.5 are summaries of Federal's subsidiaries after the Acquisition, and all of them sell personal, commercial and specialty insurance in the United States.³⁸

b) ACE American

24. ACE American is now a wholly-owned subsidiary of INA Holdings Corporation, which is a subsidiary of INA Corporation.³⁹ INA Corporation is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Chubb INA Holdings, Inc., Federal's parent company.⁴⁰

25. On March 14, 2016, ACE American and Federal entered into a services agreement under which ACE American was to provide services to Federal, Federal subsidiaries and certain affiliates that were previously performed by Chubb & Son ("ACE Services Agreement").⁴¹ Federal and ACE American amended the ACE Services Agreement on February 22, 2018, so ACE American could “provide such services directly” to nine (9) “other insurance companies as a subcontractor of Federal.”⁴²

26. All the Federal pre-acquisition employees became ACE American employees after the Acquisition, and Federal “no longer has employees” as of January 1, 2017.⁴³ Schedules 15.1, 15.2 and 15.3 are summaries of ACE American’s subsidiaries after the Acquisition.

iv. Change of Federal Ownership – Post Acquisition

27. In connection with the Acquisition, Federal changed owners from Chubb Corp to Chubb Limited (f/k/a ACE Limited) and is wholly-owned by Chubb INA Holdings, Inc. (f/k/a ACE INA Holdings, Inc.), a subsidiary of Chubb Limited into which Chubb Corp was merged.⁴⁴ As previously explained, Chubb Corp ceased to exist when it was merged with and into ACE INA Holdings, Inc.⁴⁵ Federal also became an indirect subsidiary of Chubb Limited and is now its largest insurance subsidiary in terms of premium revenue.⁴⁶

28. Also, as previously explained, by January 1, 2017, all of Federal’s pre-acquisition employees became ACE American employees.⁴⁷ Under the terms of the ACE Services Agreement and subsequent amendments, ACE American (rather than Chubb & Son) now provides services to Federal, Federal’s subsidiaries and members of Federal’s pool (defined hereafter).⁴⁸

29. This change in ownership is also reflected in the boards of directors for Chubb Corp (pre-acquisition) and Chubb Limited (post-acquisition). Specifically, the Chubb Corp board of directors was comprised of fourteen (14) directors as of December 2014.⁴⁹ After the Acquisition in January 2016, only three (3) of these fourteen (14) legacy Chubb Corp directors joined the Chubb Limited board, which increased from seventeen (17) in December 2015 to sixteen (16) members in December 2016.⁵⁰ All of the remaining thirteen are legacy ACE Limited directors.⁵¹ (See Schedule 17.0).

v. A Single Economic Unit

a) Consolidation of Federal and ACE American Financial Statements

30. The financial results of Defendants, the corresponding subsidiaries of both, and the related Chubb entities are consolidated with Chubb INA Holdings, Inc. and Chubb Limited (i.e., the ultimate parent) to reflect that the combinations of parents plus subsidiaries are, in fact, a single economic unit. The Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”), the authoritative accounting organization in the United States, requires that subsidiaries are consolidated with parent companies because financial statements are intended to reflect the economic realities of businesses. These economic relationships are defined by the parent’s corporate structure and financial interest (e.g., percent ownership) in each subsidiary.⁵² With respect to Defendants, both Federal and ACE American are currently direct (Federal) and indirect (ACE American) subsidiaries of Chubb INA Holdings, Inc., and both are also parents of several subsidiaries, all of which roll up and are reported in total with Chubb Limited.⁵³

31. The FASB guidance on consolidation states that a controlling financial interest is a “condition pointing toward consolidation” of the financial results of a parent and subsidiary.⁵⁴ One reason is that consolidated financial statements disclose information about the assets and liabilities

⁵² FASB Accounting Standards Codification 810 – Consolidated Financial Statement Scope and Scope Exceptions 810-10-15-8. According to FASB, a subsidiary is an entity in which the parent company has a controlling financial interest (e.g., either through voting rights or other means such as variable interests).

⁵³ See, generally, Taylor Deposition at Exhibit 40 (Chubb Limited 2017 Form 10-K Exhibit 21.1).

(e.g., investments, cash, revenue and debt) of a parent and its subsidiaries. This allows the parent company to present a holistic view of its financial position and operational results. According to FASB, consolidated, as opposed to individual, financial statements are necessary to provide owners and creditors a more meaningful and fair representation of the parent company.⁵⁵

32. In addition to the reporting requirements promulgated by FASB, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (“NAIC”) also requires reporting entities to disclose their subsidiaries on at least a quarterly basis. Specifically, I understand an entity’s NAIC annual statement identifies the reporting entity’s parent, subsidiaries and affiliates. The NAIC annual statement also summarizes the financial performance and operational results (e.g., premiums, cash flow, losses) of the reported entity in a consolidated manner with its subsidiaries and affiliates.⁵⁶ This consolidation of financial results is similar to the accounting reporting requirements promulgated by FASB, which suggests that they serve similar purposes to consolidation for external financial reporting.

b) Parent and Subsidiary Relationships

33. Before the Acquisition, Federal had eleven (11) domestic and eight (8) foreign subsidiaries that Chubb Corp reported on a consolidated basis in 2014.⁵⁷ All except one (1) were wholly-owned by Federal, and of these nineteen (19) subsidiaries, I understand several wrote and issued insurance policies with applications using Blaze Advisor between 2013 and 2019. (See Schedules 12.0, 14.1 and 14.2).

34. Since the Acquisition, Chubb Limited’s financial statements have included the financial results of both Federal and ACE American.⁵⁸ Federal has seven (7) domestic and five (5) foreign subsidiaries that Chubb Limited reports on a consolidated basis in 2018.⁵⁹ All except one (1) are wholly-owned by Federal, and of these twelve (12) subsidiaries, several wrote and issued insurance policies with applications using Blaze Advisor between 2016 and 2019. (See Schedules 12.0, 14.3, 14.4 and 14.5).

35. Similarly, ACE American has fourteen (14) domestic and two (2) foreign entities that Chubb Limited reports on a consolidated basis in 2018.⁶⁰ All are wholly-owned by ACE American, and of these sixteen (16) subsidiaries, several wrote and issued insurance policies with applications using Blaze Advisor between 2016 and 2019. (See Schedules 12.0, 15.1, 15.2 and 15.3).

c) Pooling Agreements

36. The pooling arrangements between Defendants and the members of their pools also demonstrate that these groups of entities are a single economic unit rather than independent businesses. Pooling arrangements are characterized by the sharing of premiums, losses and expenses among a group of participant companies, and I understand that the terms are typically memorialized by an intercompany agreement describing the pool.⁶¹ In fact, most of the pool members for both ACE American and Federal are also their wholly-owned subsidiaries. (See Schedule 16.0).

37. I understand from Bick Whitener, FICO's industry expert, that insurance companies operating under a pooling agreement function as a single business with the insurance company identified as the pool leader at the head. According to Mr. Whitener, the lead company (e.g., Federal) is typically responsible for staffing, planning, executing, and monitoring of the business model of the member companies, aggregating the financials of each individual pool member into a consolidated set of financials and then allocating the elements of the consolidated financials back to the pool members based on the agreed allocations per the pooling agreement.

38. Pooling agreements are used within a group of insurance companies to allow shared services (e.g., IT, HR, finance/accounting, underwriting) to be staffed and managed by the pool leader but paid for by the pool members in concert with the previously mentioned allocation method defined in the pooling agreement. Further, the pooling agreement allows individual companies to satisfy, among other requirements, the regulatory requirements of each state where it wants to do business (e.g., filing of product definitions such as rates, rules, and forms with a state's Department of Insurance) and to allow the members of the pool to offer specific insurance products. I understand that each state where the lead wants to offer insurance requires a state-specific Certificate of Authorization for which the entity must satisfy certain criteria (e.g., surplus requirements, solvency ratios). I understand that the aggregated financial assets of the pool are allocated back to the pool member in order to satisfy these requirements, including the "premium to surplus" ratio, an indicator of the company's ability to pay policy-holder claims and remain solvent.⁶²

39. According to Mr. Whitener, even though each insurance policy is underwritten by an individual writing company and displays that individual writing company's name on the policy Declarations page, the policy is ultimately managed, serviced and insured by the pool's lead company's assets (e.g., human capital, financial assets and otherwise) rather than any individual insurance company within the pool. In this way, the pool lead and members function as a single business unit despite the number of individual writing companies that comprise the pool.⁶³

(1) Pre-Acquisition Pools

40. Before the Acquisition, Chubb Corp participated in intercompany pooling arrangements involving Federal and ten Federal subsidiaries.⁶⁴ I understand all but one (1) of Federal's eleven (11) domestic subsidiaries in 2014 participated in this intercompany pool or were "fully reinsured by pool members."⁶⁵ A.M. Best described these eleven (11) subsidiaries plus three (3) foreign

41. Consistent with these pooling arrangements, Federal, through its division Chubb & Son, provided services to Federal and other members of the pool. These services were memorialized in a series of service agreements, and I understand Chubb & Son and certain Federal subsidiaries shared expenses and liabilities involved in writing and issuing insurance policies.⁶⁷

42. ACE American also participated in pooling arrangements with several ACE Limited subsidiaries.⁶⁸ All of the ACE Limited’s subsidiaries domiciled in Pennsylvania (including ACE American) participated in the “ACE USA underwriting pool,” and the remaining subsidiaries outside of Pennsylvania ceded “essentially all of their underwriting results” to the pool through “quota share agreements.”⁶⁹ INA Holdings’ (ACE Limited’s parent) financial position, results of operations and cash flows were represented by the combined results of these subsidiaries.⁷⁰

(2) Post-Acquisition Pools

43. Federal continued to participate in the “Federal Pool,” which included Federal plus eight (8) of its subsidiaries.⁷¹ Two (2) more Federal subsidiaries participated in a reinsurance agreement in which each ceded “100% of its business to Federal” or Great Northern, a Federal subsidiary that participates in the Federal Pool.⁷² (See Schedule 16.0).

Best gave all of Chubb Limited’s U.S. subsidiaries, including Federal and ACE American, the same “Rating,” “Outlook,” and “Action” effective December 2018.⁷⁴

45. ACE American continued to participate in the “ACE USA underwriting pool” after the Acquisition and kept the same general relationships with the pool members domiciled inside and outside of Pennsylvania.⁷⁵ The ACE USA underwriting pool was ultimately terminated and replaced by new the Chubb INA Pool.⁷⁶ These companies’ combined results of operations and cash flows continued to represent the financial position of INA Holdings, and all of these companies were indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries of Chubb INA Holdings and/or Chubb Limited as of year-end 2017.⁷⁷ (See Schedule 16.0).

d) Consolidated Income Tax Returns – Post Acquisition

47. Consistent with Defendants' subsidiary and pooling relationships, since January 1, 2017, Federal and ACE American's federal income tax returns are consolidated with each other, Chubb INA Holdings, Inc., and INA Holdings, Inc., among others.⁷⁹ This consolidated U.S. tax return is inclusive of the direct and indirect subsidiaries of Chubb Group Holdings, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Chubb Limited.⁸⁰

48. I understand that the Internal Revenue Service allows, but does not require, corporations to file a consolidated tax return with their subsidiaries.⁸¹ The choice to file in a consolidated manner is similar to the accounting reporting requirements promulgated by FASB, which suggests that a corporation and its legal entities are to be viewed in singularity, even if the corporation achieves its business objectives through multiple entities. Additionally, corporations can file a consolidated tax return only if certain stock ownership and voting requirements are satisfied and each subsidiary has consented and authorized its inclusion in the consolidated return.⁸²

49. A consolidated federal corporate tax return (i.e., Form 1120) combines the financial operations of each entity together to arrive at a single taxable income figure.⁸³ I understand there are several advantages to a consolidated tax return, including the ability to offset the losses of one entity with the profits of another entity.⁸⁴

e) Economic Benefits of Single Economic Unit

50. Defendants benefit economically from the operations of their writing company subsidiaries and writing company entities in their pooling arrangements. The economic reality is that the Defendants, their subsidiaries, and their pooling entities are a single economic unit rather than independent businesses. Specifically, Defendants acknowledge this economic reality by reporting to the NAIC on a consolidated basis and by filing consolidated federal income tax returns. Accordingly, Defendants, their subsidiaries, and their pooling entities are, in turn, part of a larger single economic unit consolidated with Chubb INA Holdings, Inc.

B. Software License and Maintenance Agreement

i. Original Agreement

51. On June 30, 2006, FICO and Chubb & Son, a division of Federal, entered into a non-exclusive, perpetual software license and maintenance agreement granting rights to use Blaze Advisor (“SLM Agreement”) in conjunction with CSI eXPRESS (defined below) in the United States.⁸⁵ The SLM Agreement granted Chubb & Son a Blaze Advisor “Named Application” license for the “CSI Express application (which is Chubb’s Specialty Insurance’s underwriting and automated policy renewal application) and its supporting systems, applications...” for a one-time fee of [REDACTED].⁸⁶

52. The SLM Agreement also included annual support and maintenance fees of [REDACTED], in exchange for certain services involving Blaze Advisor.⁸⁷ The SLM Agreement also contemplated that FICO would continue to support Chubb & Son and maintain Blaze Advisor going forward for the same amount per year.⁸⁸

53. In addition, the SLM Agreement included two options for Chubb & Son to expand its licensed usage. One option was a one-month option to expand the scope from a “Named Application” to a “Divisional ELA” license for “use within [Chubb & Son] Specialty Lines insurance division” for an additional deployment license fee of [REDACTED]. Under the terms of the Divisional ELA, FICO granted Chubb & Son ten (10) development seats and “unlimited internal use of the Fair Isaac Blaze Advisor® Deployment Product” but only for the “Specialty Lines insurance division.”⁹⁰ Divisional licenses as the term is used by FICO typically cover a small function within a line of business and does not include a far reaching scope.⁹¹ The option also doubled the support and maintenance fees payable under the SLM Agreement.⁹²

54. The second alternative involved a one-year option to convert the SLM Agreement into an enterprise-wide license that would grant Chubb & Son rights to “an unlimited number of Seats or CPU’s” for internal use of Blaze Advisor.⁹³ The option did not specify a licensee fee, but instead, allowed Chubb & Son to apply amounts already paid towards the price of a new enterprise license.⁹⁴

ii. Amendments

55. On August 1, 2006, Chubb & Son exercised its option to convert the SLM Agreement to a Divisional ELA for a total deployment license fee [REDACTED] and maintenance fees.⁹⁵ Amendment No. 1 to the SLM Agreement granted Chubb & Son a perpetual license to Blaze Advisor “for use solely by the Chubb Specialty Lines Divisions” but with “no other limitation.”⁹⁶

56. Chubb & Son exercised the option to convert the SLM Agreement to an enterprise-wide license on December 28, 2006.⁹⁷ Amendment No. 2 to the SLM Agreement granted Chubb & Son an unlimited (i.e., in terms of Seats or CPUs), perpetual license to Blaze Advisor for a net or incremental deployment license fee of [REDACTED].⁹⁸

iii. FICO Professional Services Provided to Federal

58. In connection with the SLM Agreement, the FICO Professional Services Group also provided $6.7 million in professional services to Chubb & Son between 2006 and 2016.¹⁰² The Professional Services Group is the department within FICO that “implements solutions for customers.”¹⁰³ Blaze Advisor must be customized to a customer’s needs, so FICO is typically hired to help “implement the software and all the things associated with that.”¹⁰⁴ This work consisted of several statements of work and thousands of hours of professional services to determine Chubb &

FICO’s Product Support Group is responsible for ongoing support after Blaze Advisor has been implemented by Professional Services, and this department typically handles issues like temporary outages or other malfunctions in the software.

Son's requirements, to integrate Blaze Advisor with existing applications and to train Chubb & Son personnel, among other services.¹⁰⁵

59. I understand these professional services fees are incremental to FICO's licensing, support and maintenance fees.¹⁰⁶ Consequently, when FICO licenses Blaze Advisor, it expects to generate additional professional services fees over and above the amounts for the license and associated support and maintenance.¹⁰⁷ These professional services fees also serve as incentives for FICO to discount the corresponding deployment license fees in light of the total fees that may be generated in connection with Blaze Advisor.¹⁰⁸

C. Defendants' Pervasive Use of Blaze Advisor

i. Federal/Chubb – Pre-Acquisition¹⁰⁹

60. Between 2006 and 2016, Federal, through its division Chubb & Son, incorporated Blaze Advisor into no fewer than ten (10) applications deployed to support the Chubb Specialty and Chubb Commercial business units. Federal used these applications to analyze, price, book, bind, quote, issue, renew, and comply with regulatory requirements, among other things, for several insurance products written by Federal and its domestic subsidiaries (e.g., Chubb Insurance Company of New Jersey) and pool members.¹¹⁰ Using Blaze Advisor, Federal has issued policies with premiums totaling billions of dollars since 2006.

61. Federal also distributed Blaze Advisor for installation outside of the United States by foreign entities in at least Canada, Australia, and the United Kingdom in support of insurance products sold in those countries and several European countries. Like the domestic applications, these foreign applications helped Federal, its foreign subsidiaries and pool members price, quote book, and bind new and renewal insurance policies with premiums totaling billions of dollars.

ii. Federal/ACE American – Post-Acquisition¹¹¹

62. Subsequent to the Acquisition, Defendants and certain foreign entities have continued to use Blaze Advisor applications both domestically and internationally to price, quote, and issue insurance products worth billions of dollars in premiums sold by Federal and ACE American, their subsidiaries and their pool members.

D. Termination of Agreement

63. I understand Federal did not request FICO’s consent for continued use of the software before ACE Limited acquired Chubb Corp and, by extension, Federal. Further, I understand the Acquisition represents a change of control and is deemed to be an assignment under the SLM Agreement.¹¹² As a result, on January 27, 2016, FICO notified Federal that it was in breach of Section 10.8, the “No Assignment” provision of the SLM Agreement, which reads:¹¹³

Neither party shall, without the prior written consent of the other party, assign or transfer this [SLM] Agreement...In the event of a change of control...or merg[er]... acquired by or acquires another entity, or undergoes a reorganization or otherwise acquires the right to process the business of another entity, each such event shall be deemed to be an assignment subject to this section...

64. This “No Assignment” provision is a standard provision in FICO license agreements for Blaze Advisor because it helps protect FICO against improper acquisition of the software through a series of acquisitions or merger events.¹¹⁴ I understand the provision is core to FICO’s right to control the value-based pricing of Blaze Advisor and its right to choose with whom it licenses.¹¹⁵ Some FICO licensees that previously underwent a merger or acquisition event have paid an incremental fee for a new license that involved the new, larger company.¹¹⁶

65. I understand that after FICO notified Federal of the breach, the parties unsuccessfully attempted to re-negotiate a new enterprise-wide license to replace the SLM Agreement.¹¹⁷

66. On March 30, 2016, FICO provided written notice to Federal stating that the SLM Agreement would be terminated effective March 31, 2016.¹¹⁸ FICO terminated the SLM Agreement because, among other reasons, Federal's "attempt to assign the [SLM Agreement] to [Chubb Limited]" was a breach of Section 10.8.¹¹⁹ During negotiations with Defendants to grant consent to continued use of Blaze Advisor following the acquisition and change of control, FICO also discovered that Blaze Advisor was used in Canada and the UK and was disclosed to an unauthorized third party consultant in Australia in further material breach of the SLM Agreement.¹²⁰ The SLM Agreement terminated March 31, 2016.¹²¹

V. SUMMARY OF FICO'S ALLEGATIONS

A. Breach of SLM Agreement

i. Pre-Acquisition Distribution of Blaze Advisor

67. FICO accuses Federal of breaching the SLM Agreement before the Acquisition by distributing Blaze Advisor to third parties outside of the United States and permitting the use or access of Blaze Advisor by third parties.¹²² FICO alleges that under the terms of the SLM Agreement, the authorized territory where Blaze Advisor could be installed and physically located was limited to the United States, and the disclosure, use or access of FICO products (i.e., Blaze Advisor) was restricted to the internal business operations of Chubb & Son, a division of Federal, by Chubb & Son employees.¹²³

¹²² The third parties include, but are not necessarily limited to, Chubb Insurance Company of Europe SE, Chubb Insurance Company of Canada and a consultant (AppCentrica), and Chubb Insurance Company of Australia Limited and a consultant (DWS Group). I understand that AppCentrica provided services to Chubb Canada for the design and development of Evolution (FED006837_0001-0018 at 0003). I understand that DWS is an IT consulting company similar to Accenture. Second Amended Complaint, dated September 11, 2018 at 5; Plaintiff Fair Isaac Corporation's First Supplemental Answers to Defendant's First Set of Interrogatories No. 4, dated August 16, 2017; FICO0000767; Schreiber Deposition at Exhibit 110 (FICO0001702-722 at 702-703).

¹²³ I understand Affiliates is defined in the SLM Agreement to be "any other entity directly or indirectly controlled by Client (Chubb & Son), where "control" means ownership of more than 50% of the aggregate of all voting interests in an entity." (Schreiber Deposition at Exhibit 110 (FICO0001702-722 at 719); Second Amended Complaint, dated September 11, 2018 at 6.)

ii. Post-Termination Use of Blaze Advisor

68. Plaintiff also accuses Defendants of breaching the SLM Agreement by continuing to use Blaze Advisor after FICO terminated the agreement on March 31, 2016. I understand that based on Section 9.3 of the SLM Agreement, Defendants were required to, among other things, “cease using Fair Isaac Product(s) and related documentation.”¹²⁴

69. Table 3 below is a summary of the unlicensed applications used in breach of the SLM Agreement and the years for which FICO is entitled to damages for each unlicensed use.¹²⁵

B. Copyright Infringement

i. Pre-Acquisition Unlicensed Distribution of Blaze Advisor

70. FICO accuses Federal of infringing one or more copyrights by distributing Blaze Advisor for installation on servers physically located outside of the United States.¹²⁶ This unlicensed distribution breached Section 3.1 of the SLM Agreement and the Territorial restriction of the license grant.¹²⁷

ii. Post-Termination Use of Blaze Advisor

71. FICO also accuses Defendants of infringing FICO's copyrights by using Blaze Advisor after FICO terminated the SLM Agreement on March 31, 2016.¹²⁸ I understand that once FICO terminated the SLM Agreement, every use of Blaze Advisor was unlicensed and, therefore, infringing upon FICO's copyrights. Table 4 below is a summary of the applications that use Blaze Advisor that Plaintiff alleges infringe FICO's copyrights and the years for which FICO is seeking damages related to the alleged infringement.¹²⁹

C. Defendants’ Applications Incorporating Blaze Advisor

a) Policy Administration Applications

72. Policy administration applications are used to book, bind and issue insurance policies and to maintain those policies.¹³⁰ These applications are used to create and administer new policies and to renew existing policies. Although I understand that “policy administration application” has a specific connotation in insurance software parlance, I have used the term broadly to describe applications that are used to acquire, assess, price, process, administer and renew insurance policies. Defendants use at least five policy administration applications in the U.S., Australia, Canada, United Kingdom and Europe.

¹³⁰ Mirollyuz 1/11/19 Deposition at 76.

(1) CSI eXPRESS

73. CSI eXPRESS is a policy administration application used for Defendants' Financial/Specialty Line of business in the United States and Canada.¹³¹ Defendants use the CSI eXPRESS application to process new and renewal insurance policies for roughly 113 CSI products.¹³² Federal uses CSI eXPRESS to book, bind and issue new policies and to renew existing policies.¹³³ Blaze Advisor software is used within the CSI eXPRESS policy administration system to quote, bind, book, issue and process policies.¹³⁴

(2) Cornerstone

74. Cornerstone is a solution used for surety bond issuance and maintenance.¹³⁵ Cornerstone was designed to make it easy for customers to work with Chubb Surety by enhancing underwriting excellence, increasing bond processing efficiency, and improving internal controls and compliance.¹³⁶

b) Compliance-Related Applications Using Blaze Advisor(1) Premium Booking

75. Premium Booking uses Blaze Advisor to ensure that insurance premiums for issued policies comply with Defendants' rules and regulations.¹³⁷ Once a policy is issued, information from CSI eXPRESS is sent to Premium Booking, a process called sending the premium "downstream" for recording and additional processing.¹³⁸ Premium Booking ensures that issued premiums are processed and recorded properly.¹³⁹ Over one billion dollars in premiums have been processed through this application since the Premium Booking application began utilizing Blaze Advisor in 2012.¹⁴⁰

(2) Individual Rate Modification Application (“IRMA”)

76. IRMA is a compliance solution used within CCI’s Applied Technology Department to ensure individual rate modifications are applied consistently and that they meet state requirements for justification of the modifications.¹⁴¹ IRMA uses Blaze Advisor to calculate premiums on a specific book of commercial policies and is used just prior to sending a policy to Premium Booking to implement the final compliance check.¹⁴²

(3) Texas Accident Prevention System (“TAPS”)

77. TAPS is a compliance application for workers’ compensation policies sold in the state of Texas.¹⁴³ The state of Texas mandates that insurance companies maintain or provide accident prevention facilities/services for policies that meet certain criteria for premiums, claims, and other factors.¹⁴⁴ These service requirements typically take the form of a letter offering services or “a visit from a member of Loss Control.”¹⁴⁵ TAPS ensures that a letter is generated for these workers’ compensation policies after they are issued.¹⁴⁶ Absent compliance with Texas’ requirements, relevant insurance policies could not be issued in the state of Texas.¹⁴⁷

c) Other Applications Using Blaze Advisor

(1) Commercial Underwriting Workstation (CUW)

78. The Commercial Underwriting Workstation (CUW) is a workstation used by Defendants to maintain records of interactions with customers. The platform “supports commercial underwriting and processing throughout the underwriting lifecycle.”¹⁴⁸ When an underwriter communicates with a customer, the conversations and documents are recorded and stored in the CUW.¹⁴⁹ For example, Defendants’ underwriters use CUW to write notes regarding customer conversations and to store significant customer documents.¹⁵⁰ The purpose of CUW is to serve as “a single point of interface to [Defendants’] most frequently used commercial systems” and tracks requests (e.g. rate/book/issue) between branches and processing centers.¹⁵¹ By June 2009, CUW had over 6,000 users in the United States and Canada.¹⁵²

79. CUW uses Blaze Advisor in its Inventory Management tool.¹⁵³ Inventory Management regulates the flow of applications between agents/brokers and underwriters to increase the speed with which applications are underwritten and returned to applicants.¹⁵⁴ The purpose is to eliminate the peaks and valleys of work in Defendants’ processing centers and to distribute the work more evenly.¹⁵⁵ Inventory Management is “critical” to Defendants’ underwriting operations because if the system goes down, “work orders cannot be created or viewed,” so little processing can occur (e.g., rate/book/issue policies), quoting and issuance services are hamstrung and responses to producers are delayed.¹⁵⁶

¹⁴⁸ Mirolyuz 1/11/19 Deposition at 58-59; FED_004571 at “Application Summary” worksheet; FED016602_0001-0013 at 003.

¹⁵⁵ FED016599_0001-0008 at 0001.

¹⁵⁶ FED016602_0001-0013 at 003.

(2) Automated Renewals

80. The Automated Renewals application automatically books, binds and issues renewal policies for existing customers and flags potential problems that underwriters need to address with a customer.¹⁵⁷ The process within the Automated Renewals application (“ARP”) generally follows two paths categorized as ARPI and ARPII.¹⁵⁸ ARPI determines whether an existing policy is eligible for automatic renewal.¹⁵⁹ If a customer is not eligible for an automatic renewal, then the policy goes to a human underwriter to address the issues highlighted in the ARPI process.¹⁶⁰ If the policy is eligible for automatic renewal, ARPII is used to automatically book, bind and issue the policy.¹⁶¹ Every issued policy that is entered into CSI eXPRESS is also engaged by the Automated Renewals application.¹⁶²

81. The Automated Renewals application utilizes Blaze Advisor to “increase the percentage of automated renewal submissions.”¹⁶³ By directing more policies to renew automatically, Defendants’ underwriters are able to “develop and produce additional business or handle additional business” rather than process policy renewals.¹⁶⁴

82. Defendants also use Blaze Advisor to decrease the time and expense of changing renewal rules in the Automated Renewals application. Specifically, the ARPI pathway reduces the “cost of changing renewal rules” from 3-6 months to 2-3 days of IT work.¹⁶⁵

¹⁶⁵ Miroylyuz 1/11/19 Deposition at Exhibit 192 (FICO0057206-222 at 210).

83. Taken together, the Automated Renewals application using Blaze Advisor creates additional revenue opportunities and reduces costs by (i) automating the renewals processes for existing customers, and (ii) increasing the efficiency of changing renewal rules, which increases revenue by freeing up underwriters to produce and handle new business.¹⁶⁶

(3) Profitability Indicator

84. Formerly called “Predictive Modeling,” the Profitability Indicator application functions to ensure that the price of an insurance policy aligns with the underlying risk of the policy.¹⁶⁷ It is a “statistical model to assist underwriters in predicting the future behavior of our [Defendants’] current and potential customers,” and it uses Blaze Advisor to make decisions more precisely and consistently.¹⁶⁸ Profitability Indicator calculates a risk score used by underwriters to “assess the severity of the risk” and “to make an objective decision about the potential profitability of a risk based on internal and external factors.”¹⁶⁹ The risk score informs the premium, or price, among other things, that Federal will charge a customer for an insurance policy.¹⁷⁰ It is used to assess the risk of both new and existing policies.¹⁷¹ Profitability Indicator is used with the Financial lines of business (f/k/a Chubb Specialty).¹⁷²

85. The results generated from Profitability Indicator also inform the Automated Renewals application, and for some functions, human intervention is not necessary.¹⁷³ If the Automated Renewals application determines that human intervention is necessary for a renewal, the Profitability Indicator application then identifies issues for human underwriters to review and address.¹⁷⁴

86. Blaze Advisor enables Profitability Indicator to make “accurate predictions [which] permits accurate actions and treatments allowing for better management of risk, costs, [and] losses.”¹⁷⁵ In addition to improving Defendants’ ability to analyze and price insurance products, I understand that Defendants have realized, and continue to enjoy, the following additional benefits:¹⁷⁶

- Move more existing policies into automated renewal submissions;
- “Increas[ed] retention of best accounts and more readily identify less profitable accounts;”
- “Greater efficiency for underwriters and continued efficiency for agents, who will have fewer policies to handle and fewer questions to address;” and
- More easily updated underwriting rules.

87. Based on the foregoing, not only do Defendants use Blaze Advisor within Profitability Indicator to price insurance policies but their use of Blaze Advisor also increases the precision and consistency in decision-making about the potential profitability of risk based on internal and external factors.¹⁷⁷

(4) Decision Point

88. Decision Point is an application “devoted to new business” for “profitable growth” and used by Defendants’ producers/agents to generate quotes for new customers in certain Financial lines of business (f/k/a Chubb Specialty Insurance).¹⁷⁸ Decision Point is a “web quoting” application accessed by agents through a website (i.e., @chubb) that is used to support “on-line new business submission creation and quotes generation” for certain Financial lines of business including Directors & Officers (“D&O”), Employment Practices Liability (“EPL”), and Crime and Fiduciary.¹⁷⁹ I understand that Decision Point provides “functionality related to Clearance,

According to Mr. Harkin, the products previously reported under the Chubb Specialty Insurance unit are now reported under the Chubb Limited Financial line.

¹⁷⁹ FED000294_001-021 at 003.

Eligibility, Pricing, etc.” including determining customer eligibility, pricing the policy, normalizing data and reserving the policy risk.¹⁸⁰ I also understand that Decision Point uses Blaze Advisor software to perform these functions.¹⁸¹

89. After customers’ applications are evaluated and processed, Decision Point generates a quote letter for Defendants’ producers/agents working with a potential policy holder.¹⁸² Quote letters are generated in email format with embedded links and include the price to sell and bind an insurance policy for that customer.¹⁸³ If the quotes issued in Decision Point are accepted by customers, the resulting policies are entered into the CSI eXPRESS application where the policy is administered.¹⁸⁴

90. In simplistic terms, I understand that Decision Point streamlines and improves the business processes and communications between Defendants’ underwriters and the producers/agents that sell its insurance products. Specifically, I understand that Defendants’ use of Decision Point:¹⁸⁵

- Allows producers to obtain real-time quotes and a bind-able quote letter;
- Improves producer’s client service and productivity;
- Enhances underwriter’s responsiveness to producers; and
- “Allows underwriters to concentrate on other business that requires true underwriting expertise.”

(5) CIS Claims

91. CIS Claims is an actuarial application used by the Specialty/Financial line. Similar to Profitability Indicator, it uses claims data to generate a severity score based on a set of business rules.¹⁸⁶ However, this score is generated after a claim is processed rather than when analyzing a

ii. Foreign Applications

a) European Zone Executive Risk (“EZER”)¹⁸⁹

93. EZER is the European zone policy administration application and workstation used by Defendants in the UK and thirteen (13) countries within the European Group to “support [the] complete end to end policy life-cycle for all CCI and CSI business.”¹⁹⁰ It is used during the underwriting process to quote, bind, renew, endorse cancel, and reinstate policies and generate reports and documents for underwriters.¹⁹¹ For example, EZER uses Blaze Advisor for ARPI automated renewal analyses similar to the process carried out by Automated Renewals in the United States.¹⁹²

94. Defendants use EZER in the Chubb Commercial Insurance (CCI) and Chubb Specialty Insurance (CSI) businesses in Chubb's European zone (EUZ).¹⁹³ According to Defendants, EZER was first used in the United Kingdom in 2012.¹⁹⁴

b) Evolution

95. Evolution is a policy administration application used by Defendants in Canada and Australia to "support[] the entire policy administration life cycle."¹⁹⁵ Unique from other Defendant policy administration applications, Evolution in Canada supported all Chubb Corp business units and products including CPI, CCI, and CSI prior to the Acquisition.¹⁹⁶ For example, Evolution uses Blaze Advisor for underwriting guidance, and "it has its own service developed for that particular application."¹⁹⁷ It supports both internal and external users and the user interface "doubles as a market facing portal."¹⁹⁸

96. Evolution was developed to, among other things, (i) improve underwriting productivity and increase capacity for growth (ii) automate tasks, so certain resources could be redeployed (iii) improve service to brokers and clients by speeding policy delivery (iv) "improve risk management," and (v) decrease maintenance costs.¹⁹⁹

97. Broker Site is “a front-end quoting system” integrated with Evolution in Canada.²⁰⁰ It also allows brokers to access information and documents such as billing and claims information and reference libraries of contract guides, rates and rules, product highlights, training and webcasts.²⁰¹ It is used in Defendants’ Personal and Commercial lines to help brokers manage their clients. Broker Site interfaces with and draws information from the Evolution policy administration system.²⁰²

d) Adapt

98. Adapt is the policy administration application used in the United Kingdom, Australia, and other European Countries.²⁰³ It is broker-facing and allows for real-time binding and issuing of policies and is used for, among other things, back-end administration, automation, document generation and electronic filing.²⁰⁴ Adapt also enables a broker to view and manage his or her own portfolio.²⁰⁵ Adapt has been used in Australia since 2007 for the A&H business unit and applies business rules in Blaze Advisor for underwriting guidance.²⁰⁶

99. Exari functions as an additional data collection source following EZER’s initial data collection.²⁰⁷ This iterative data collection reduces the underwriter’s time and effort.²⁰⁸ Chubb canceled the Exari project at or around January 27, 2016, the time that ACE Limited acquired Chubb Corp.²⁰⁹

D. FICO’s Pricing for Blaze Software

101. The process by which FICO prices Blaze Advisor licenses has not changed since November 2003.²¹⁰ FICO has used two different pricing grids for both named application and enterprise-wide licenses and has done so since these two pricing grids were created.²¹¹ The prices in these grids reflect amounts for perpetual licenses.²¹² However, FICO also offers Blaze Advisor for named applications on an annual basis.²¹³

i. Named Application Standard Deployment License Fees

102. FICO’s customers typically license Blaze Advisor on a “named application” basis.²¹⁴ To price these licenses, FICO has used a nine-factor “Application Sizing Matrix” (“ASM”) and a “Category Pricing Matrix” (“CSM”) rate table that corresponds to the size of the application derived from the ASM.²¹⁵

²¹⁰ Waid 1/16/19 Deposition at 89, 97-99, 108, 110.

²¹¹ I understand these pricing grids were used to determine the pricing for the SLM Agreement in 2006 executed by FICO and Chubb & Son.

iii. Development Seat Fees²²⁶

107. I understand that FICO requires licensees to maintain development seat licenses to sustain existing and/or develop new applications incorporating Blaze Advisor. These seats are separately priced from software licenses and are necessary to support and maintain the software. The number of development seats varies by the size of the corresponding application using Blaze Advisor. The seats are licensed in packs of three (3) to thirty (30), and packs may be combined to satisfy the licensee's requirements.

iv. Multi-Platform Uplift²²⁷

108. Further, I understand an additional fee is required if an application utilizes Blaze Advisor on more than one platform. Specifically, of the Defendants' applications incorporating Blaze Advisor, I understand the Evolution application in Canada and CSI eXPRESS in the United States use two different platforms, and accordingly results in an [REDACTED]. This incremental "multi-platform uplift" is calculated by multiplying [REDACTED] the deployment license fee derived from the CSM rate table previously described.

VI. SUMMARY OF OPINIONS

109. My opinions are based on careful consideration of the case-specific facts and circumstances, as well as my education, training and experience. As further discussed within this report, I also considered various factors and considerations as set forth in relevant case law. Based on the documents produced to date, I have reached the following opinions.

A. Lost Software Licensing, Support and Maintenance Fees

110. FICO has lost deployment license, development seat license, support and maintenance fees totaling $37.4 million from Defendants' unlicensed and unauthorized use of Blaze Advisor between April 2010 and December 2019. These fees include improper usage in the United States of $16.1 million and $21.3 million in Canada, Australia, the United Kingdom and certain other countries in the European zone. (See Schedule 3.0).

B. Profits from Using and Distributing Blaze Advisor

111. FICO may be entitled to disgorge Defendants' profits from written premiums generated using Blaze Advisor.²²⁸ Between March 31, 2016 and March 2019, Defendants generated gross written premiums in the United States of $28.4 billion. (See Schedules 3.0 and 8.0.) FICO may also be entitled to disgorge the profits from written premiums generated by certain foreign entities that used Blaze Advisor in Canada, Australia, the United Kingdom and certain other European countries between April 2013 and March 2019 of $2.5 billion. (See Schedules 3.0 and 9.0.) In total, FICO may be entitled to disgorge the profits from written premiums generated using Blaze Advisor of $30.9 billion. (See Schedule 3.0).

VII. ANALYSIS OF DAMAGES

112. For purposes of my damages analysis, I have assumed that Defendants Federal and ACE American are liable for the causes of action asserted by FICO and as a result of Defendants' actions, FICO has suffered economic harm, and/or Defendants have realized improper economic benefits.

A. Lost FICO Software License, Support, and Maintenance Fees

i. Nature of Defendants' License Agreements

113. The appropriate measure of FICO's lost domestic license fees for the period from March 31, 2016 (i.e., the termination date) to December 2019 (i.e., the trial ready date in this matter) is FICO's annual named-application deployment and development seat license fees for the period each Blaze Advisor application is used without FICO's licensed consent. This is the appropriate measure of loss to FICO because it reflects the value of its software for each year of unlicensed use in each unlicensed application until that use is enjoined.

²²⁸ I understand based on the Copyright Act (17 U.S.C. § 504(b)) that: "In establishing the infringer's profits, the copyright owner is required to present proof only of the infringer's gross revenue, and the infringer is required to prove his or her deductible expenses and the elements of profit attributable to factors other than the copyrighted work." As a result, the damages presented related to copyright infringement damages reflect the dollar amounts associated with the gross written premiums through Defendants' allegedly infringing use of Blaze Advisor.

domestic software license, development seat, support and maintenance fees between March 31, 2016 and December 2019. (See Schedule 4.0).

116. FICO has also lost $21.3 million in unpaid foreign deployment license, development seat license, support and maintenance fees between April 21, 2010 and December 2019. (See Schedule 5.0).

117. In total, FICO lost license, support and maintenance fees of $37.4 million between April 2010 and December 2019. (See Schedule 3.0).

B. Understanding of Damages Related to Copyright Infringement

118. To assess the damages suffered by FICO as a result of Defendants' alleged copyright infringement in this instance, I have made the following assumptions: (1) the Copyrights-in-Suit are enforceable; (2) the Copyrights-in-Suit are valid; (3) the Copyrights-in-Suit are owned and controlled by FICO; and (4) Defendants are found liable for the wrongful acts asserted in the causes of action brought by FICO in this matter.

i. Available Damages Remedies (Copyright Infringement)

119. I understand that the appropriate monetary remedies in instances of copyright infringement are outlined in 17 U.S.C. § 504(b):

Actual Damages and Profits. —

The copyright owner is entitled to recover the actual damages suffered by him or her as a result of the infringement, and any profits of the infringer that are attributable to the infringement and are not taken into account in computing the actual damages. In establishing the infringer's profits, the copyright owner is required to present proof only of the infringer's gross revenue, and the infringer is required to prove his or her deductible expenses and the elements of profit attributable to factors other than the copyrighted work.

120. I understand the available damage remedies for copyright infringement include actual damages sustained by the plaintiff and profits of the infringer attributable to the infringement.²³¹

²³¹ Calculating Intellectual Property Infringement Damages, AICPA Practice Aid, 3rd Ed. (2012); and 17 U.S.C § 504(b).

C. FICO's Actual Damages

121. The Copyright Act permits recovery of actual damages suffered as a result of the infringement. As discussed above in Section VII(A), FICO has lost deployment and develop seat license, support, and maintenance fees.

D. Disgorgement/Defendants' Profits²³²

i. Defendants Use of Blaze Advisor Contributes to Insurance Premiums

122. Defendants disclosed the gross written premiums of each company from all insurance policies in connection with which Blaze Advisor was used.²³³ I understand that these Blaze Advisor applications have contributed to the generation of billions of dollars in premiums.

123. Table 8 below is a summary of Defendants' domestic business units/segments and the corresponding Blaze Advisor applications that each uses.

Table 8: Summary of Domestic Business Units/Segments and Blaze Advisor Applications²³⁴

²³² I understand based on the Copyright Act (17 U.S.C. § 504(b)) that: "In establishing the infringer's profits, the copyright owner is required to present proof only of the infringer's gross revenue, and the infringer is required to prove his or her deductible expenses and the elements of profit attributable to factors other than the copyrighted work." As a result, the damages presented related to copyright infringement damages reflect the dollar amounts associated with the gross written premiums through Defendants' allegedly infringing use of Blaze Advisor.

E. Disgorgement/Defendants' Profits²³⁶*i. Accused Domestic Infringement*

124. Based on my review of the documents produced and testimony given in this matter as well as my discussions with Bick Whitener, Defendants' use of Blaze Advisor contributes to the generation of gross written premiums. Consequently, FICO may be entitled to disgorge Defendants' profits from written premiums generated using Blaze Advisor. Between March 31, 2016 and March 2019, Defendants generated gross written premiums totaling $28.4 billion. (See Schedules 3.0 and 8.0).

125. My computations of Federal's and ACE American's gross written premiums are limited to only those reported by Defendants as involving domestic Blaze Advisor applications.

ii. Accused Foreign Infringement

126. FICO may also be entitled to disgorge Defendants' profits derived from the gross written premiums generated using Blaze Advisor in foreign applications. Again, my computations of gross written premiums are limited to only those reported by Defendants as involving Blaze Advisor foreign applications. Between April 21, 2013 and March 2019, Defendants reported written premiums totaling $2.5 billion. (See Schedules 3.0 and 9.0).

²³⁶ I understand based on the Copyright Act (17 U.S.C. § 504(b)) that: "In establishing the infringer's profits, the copyright owner is required to present proof only of the infringer's gross revenue, and the infringer is required to prove his or her deductible expenses and the elements of profit attributable to factors other than the copyrighted work." As a result, the damages presented related to copyright infringement damages reflect the dollar amounts associated with the gross written premiums through Defendants' allegedly infringing use of Blaze Advisor.

- Per discussions with William Waid, I understand the Size of the application is determined based on the nine-factor Application Sizing Matrix. Additionally, I understand a Development Seat, which is priced in Packs, is a required annual cost to help maintain the software. (Plaintiff Fair Isaac Corporation's Second Supplemental Answers to Defendant's Interrogatory Nos. 6-9, dated April 23, 2018 at 6-7; Waid 4/2/2019 Deposition at 17-21.)
- Per discussions with William Waid, I understand the Deployment License fee is determined based on applying the application Size to the Category Matrix Pricing. (Plaintiff Fair Isaac Corporation's Second Supplemental Answers to Defendant's Interrogatory Nos. 6-9, dated April 23, 2018 at 6-7; Waid Declaration at Exhibit A (FICO0000830); Waid 4/2/2019 Deposition at 17-21.)
- Per discussions with William Waid, I understand CSI eXPRESS application uses more than one platform and accordingly, a Multi-Platform Uplift fee of 1.4x is applied to the Deployment License fee. Additionally, I understand the Packs of Development Seats for CSI eXPRESS (i.e., 3-Pack) is required separately for each platform (i.e., two 3-Packs). All other domestic applications only use one platform. (Waid 4/2/2019 Deposition at 96-97; FED001020_0001.)
- Calculated as the sum of the Deployment License fee and the Multi-Platform Uplift fee.
- Per discussions with William Waid, I understand the Development Seat License fee is determined based on the Category Pricing Matrix. (Plaintiff Fair Isaac Corporation's Second Supplemental Answers to Defendant's Interrogatory Nos. 6-9, dated April 23, 2018 at 6-7; Waid Declaration at Exhibit A (FICO0000830).)
- Calculated as the sum of the Adjusted Deployment License fee and Development Seat License fee.
